Meaning of Saturn Neptune

Saturn Overview

Saturn on a societal level

- Country, nation, border, government, social rules and laws
- Ethnic and national history, social norms, gender norms
- The kind of “rulership” - how a society or country relates to ethics and morality.
- How systems and order is established and enforced in any country.
- The “rights” of a people relative to their ethnicity, nationality or citizenship.

Saturn on a personal level

- Personal discipline, cultivation of self-authority
- Lessons of necessary repression
- Self-determination
- Issues of judgement, unhealthy repression, over-concern with social status
- Issues with ethics, not cultivating healthy boundaries and limits in one’s life.

Neptune Overview

Neptune on a social level

- Collective hopes, ideals, beliefs about salvation.
 - examples: the third temple, the second coming
 - public savoir-type figures or gurus
- Ways in which the masses become singularly unified
 - members of an army, emergency worker, victims of natural disaster or war
- Mass deception, how people can be deceived to believe what is unreal.

Neptune on a personal level

- What we give ultimate meaning to
- Process of disillusionment
- Cultivation of relationship with Higher Meaning, not of one's own making
- Co-creation, surrender, miracles
- Cultivation of neutrality in face of suffering

Neptune Overview

Neptune represents where the Truth can be hidden in plain sight simply because of the power of belief to obscure reality.

Beliefs cannot change reality, but they can distort our perception of it in radical ways.

Saturn Neptune (societal)

- Cultural homogenisation, elimination of borders, mass-unification
 - large empires that “unify land” while also stripping individual ethnic identity

- The longing of a people for a better life linked to a change in conditions
 - Idealisation of salvation/ healing linked to physical conditions
 - Restoring borders (Islamic brotherhood, Jewish religious extremist ideology)
 - National or ethnic vulnerability (lack of protection, collective depression, loss of home)
 - Collective/ national disillusionment
 - Martyrdom, sacrifice for sake of national/ ethnic ideals - often delusional
 - Mass spreading of religious ideologies that become rule of law for entire nations

- Social anarchy: loss of trust in external governance
 - Moral anarchy: no guidelines for moral behaviour. Loss of ethical framework for right and wrong

Saturn Neptune (societal)

We are deceived by the FORM of things, but miss what is happening on the inside

The devil tricks us by finding its way into a structure we had otherwise spiritualized, deemed as pure, incapable of corruption, or to which we had given our indiscriminate trust

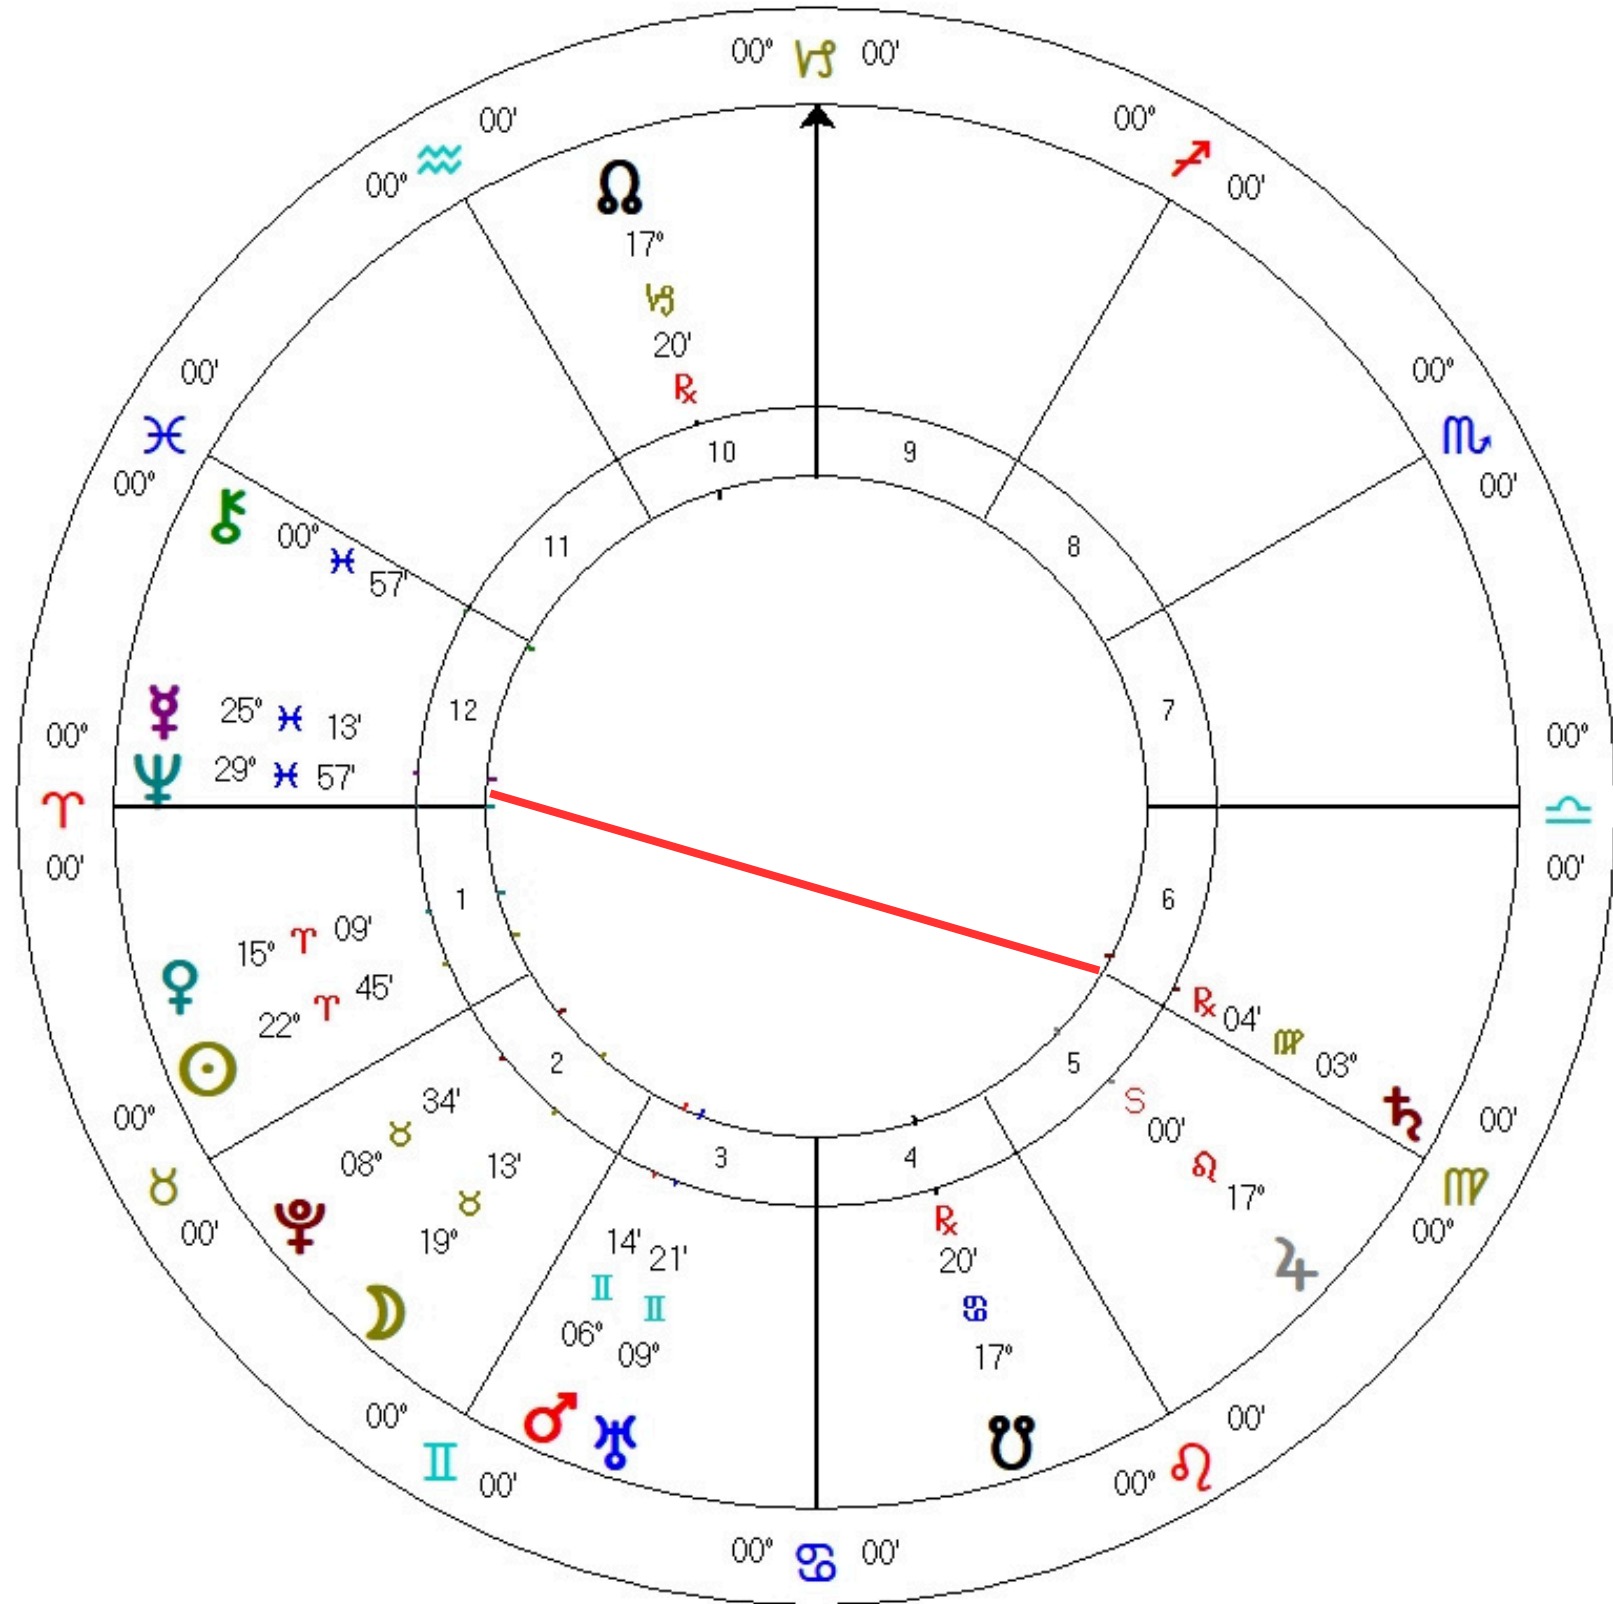

Democracies can be undone if a people becomes adequately deceived to believe that hate is love.

Delusional Moralities

Loss of higher moralistic ideals to live by

- A child with no parents to guide them
- Immature instincts take the place of order and meaning
- Law and order is replaced by instinctual fear impulses.
- Fight/flight responses dominate consciousness

Hamas, violent settler extremists, moral and socially acceptable justifications of deportation, ethnic cleansing, genocidal actions, military state (Jan 6'ers out of jail, people who protest put in jail without due process), disregard for rule of law, dictatorship. Idealization of one strong leader.

Feeling weak and small relative to all the illusion and pain.

Feeling powerful and activated relative to a delusional and violent purpose

When we see ourselves as small and powerless to make change

- We either fall into depression and despair, forgoing our own agency
- Become violent, reckless, aggressive. Self-appointed policing

Loss of Meaning and Misdirection

Loss of purpose and direction

- Lack of energy. Can't make a car run with no fuel
- We can't give any energy to what isn't real for us
- BIG difficulties in endings, depression, necessity to allow something that used to be to die

Illusion of the meaning we give to form

- The weak and bullied become violent and sadistic.
- The illusion of “victim perpetrator” dualities (HRE)
- How many wars have been fought for insane nationalistic reasons.

Uprisings that go absolutely no where

- Dreams aren't allowed entry
- Loss of meaning, despair

Inspired Action, Trust

Cultivation of bravery and leadership

- Doing the right thing, standing in nobility and strength
- Role models that draw upon timeless truth. When there is chaos, how do we choose to behave?

What spirit calls within us will inspire action

- We receive infinite energy to do what we are here to do.
- We have a role to play

The small can overcome the big

- There is no order of difficulty in miracles
- LOVE , TRUTH is greater than all things in this world

Do not despair

- We cannot do enough to prevent suffering. Some processes are inevitable. Peace is not in controlling outcome or preventing suffering. It is in our connection to Higher Meaning.

Boundaries and Definition

When rules are oppressive, it creates fear and depression. Like a child shamed and punished by controlling parents for something they didn't do. They can't do anything about it.

When the small is no longer small, they can take revenge. This is why we have to look beyond the form. Those who identify strongly with being victimized are the most dangerous people.

Boundaries are important. Boundaries reflect our spiritual discrimination as to what we choose to let in, what we chose to give our attention to. Being open ended is not conducive to growth.

Gender and social roles can be taken to an extreme when forms are taken as absolute truths.

Saturn Neptune in Aries in Your Chart

What might be ending?

Beyond the illusion that is ending, what is the light of truth beginning to reveal itself?

Confidence and courage to stand in your strength, to trust your individual destiny.

Building up your chi.

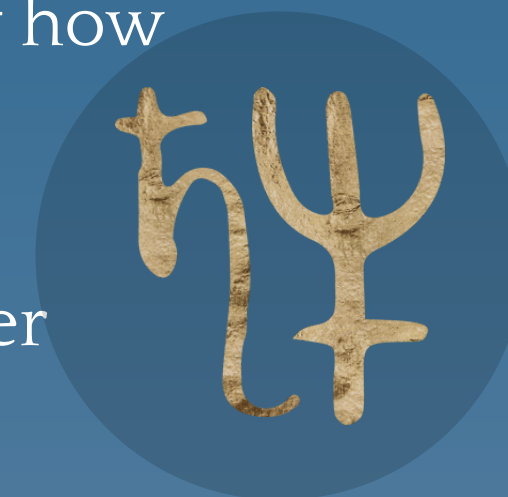

Where are you being guided to discipline and become stronger?

OVERCOME FEAR OF JUDGEMENT

Spiritual activism is simply action inspired. This is your higher calling. It's not about any specific form or something directly related to a current social cause. It's about love's directive acting through YOU, which we should not judge.

Dissolving rigid boundaries to make way for new possibilities. Letting go of high horse moralities of how things "should be".

Look towards your own natal Mars to give specific context for how you are stepping into your higher leadership and purpose.

Understanding Aries For Real

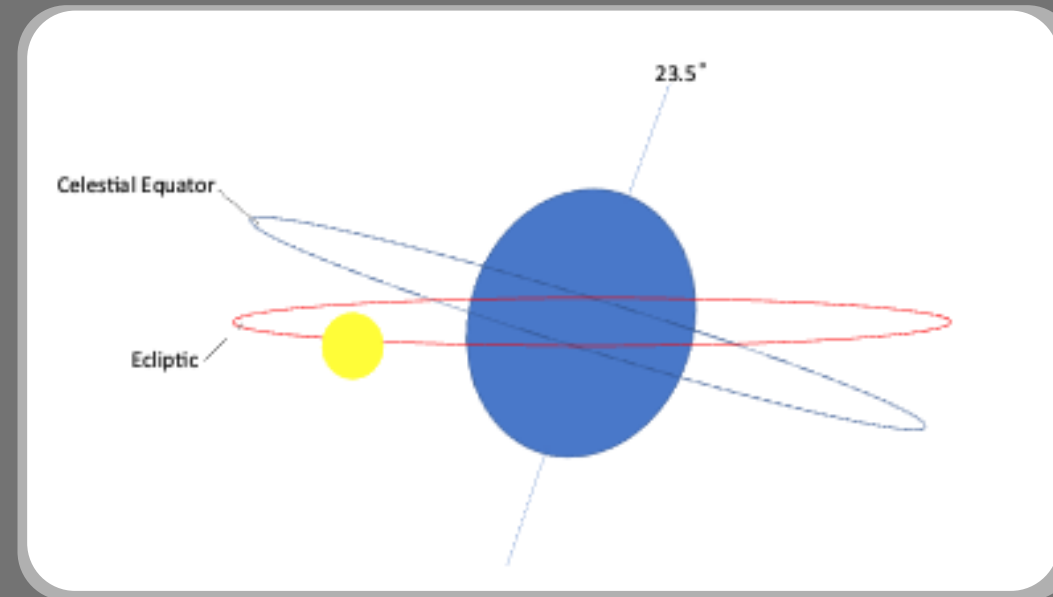

Part 1: Significance of 0 Degrees Aries

It's not just a "circle". Not all degrees are created equal

Ecliptic is the "apparent" path of the Sun. The celestial equator is tilted 23.5 degrees relative to the ecliptic

There are two natural intersection points between the C.E and the ecliptic

The zodiac contains 4 cardinal points defined by the relationship between the C.E and the ecliptic.

There are each ASSIGNED as zero degrees of the cardinal signs

Tracking Saturn as the Ground of Our Soul-Work

Taking Personal Responsibility

THIS is the signature of growing up

--

- The child expects (and requires) external authority to do the hard lifting
- Adults do the hard lifting.
 - no reward
 - no external feedback
- Anything worth doing is worth doing well.
 - Slow
 - Integrity
 - No skipping steps
 - Do the right thing because its the right thing

Challenges with Saturn Neptune

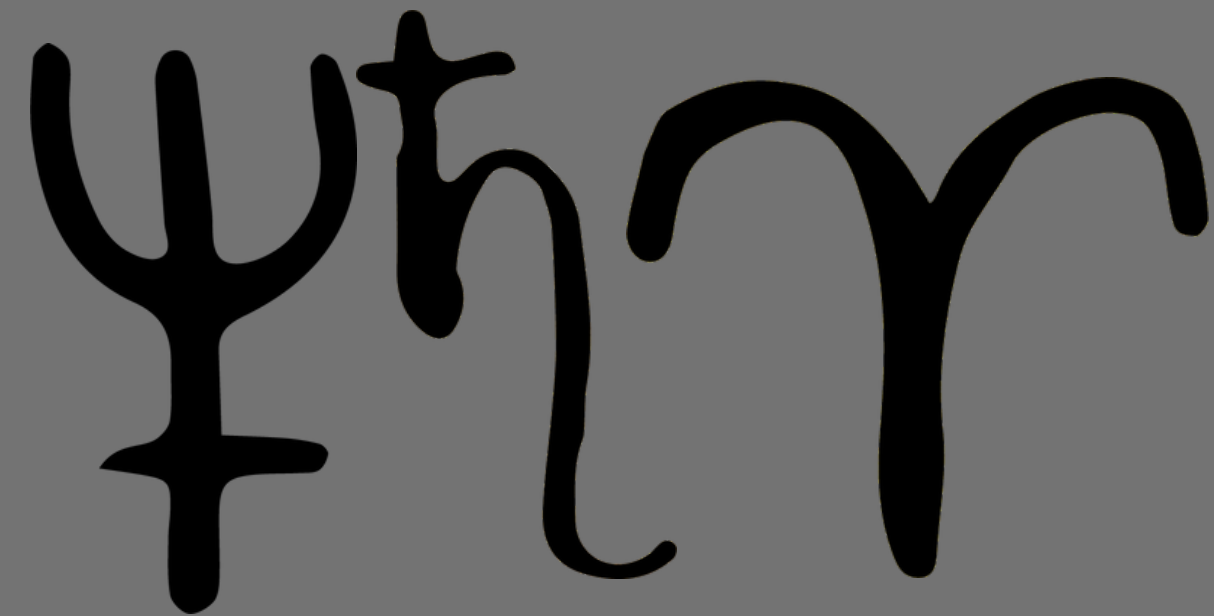

Anarchy

Violence

Dangerous loss of Perspective

--

- What do you do when you fail? When “it” doesn’t work?
- What is your relationship to saying NO, to creating limits?

Tracking Saturn as the Ground of Our Soul-Work

Success as a long term process

A part of growth is allowing for a maturation to occur.

- Don't rush to become the CEO
- Society idealizes quick success, so we are fighting against that trend

3 Phases

Phase 1: Weakness

Phase 2: Spiritual emergence and renewal

Phase 3: Spiritual activist

Phase 1: Weakness

Weakness. Saturn Neptune in Aries may start off as weak, small, incapable. I am nothing, I am not strong, I have nothing to offer and the waves of life are much greater than me. What could I possibly do? Here we take the memory of who we have been and the accurate assessment of our past in so far as the person we have thought ourselves to be and the illusions thereof. We might deeply sense that we are too small and may feel a loss of faith and motivation.

To the ego, it is all either cause for giving up hope, or on the flip side, a false sense of importance usually only to eventually tip over into hopelessness. But to the love that we are, nothing is off the table, we just have to do our walk.

Perhaps during the stripping away of this Pisces phase we have found ourselves at the precipice of a great "ok now what!?" This can feel exciting and yet deeply daunting at the same time. If we still think we are supposed to have the answers already, and if we judge ourselves for not understanding, then we will feel very weak and fragile.

Phase 2: Emergence and Spiritual Renewal

Emergence of new, fresh energy; spiritual renewal. I think this will most significantly begin to come into expression especially as Saturn passes a couple or so degrees from Neptune. Some space, some perspective. The gradual movement of Saturn represents the crystallization and clarification of form. The fear here might be in becoming overly structured; the fear of just creating another "somebody". But new structure has to be developed. The key in this phase is to set into practice the humility of building with the strength of our inner spiritual guidance, our deeper calling in life.

Another way to think of this is this: all of life is designed to help each one of us to achieve our spiritual goals. These are the potentialities that are innate to our purpose; the ways that love wishes to animate and live through and as us. The truth of this isn't a question, it's not a debate as to its inevitability. It's just a matter of the process itself, seemingly unfolding in time. And so there can be a very strong and growing sense of fate beginning to unfold.

Appropriately so, we will start to envision ourselves in new ways. Perhaps not free of identity making, but perhaps more light, less burdened by older baggage, and more confident and free to walk the path that Meaning has made for us.

Phase 3: Spiritual Activation and Miraculous Capacity

Simultaneous to all of this, we are going to see many contrary expressions of this conjunction expressing in the world. The crystallization of intense delusion, ideals of power and strength, and a massive amount of energy poured into defending and protecting an ethnic, national, cultural religious sense of identity. The potential for the idealization of rigid and violent attitudes is very strong in this signature, and we've seen this in history as well. Massive deception as the masses give meaning and faith to false idols of power and strength that are just empty and void of any real meaning.

This intensity naturally brings forward within each of us a more matured and sobering attitude to come into alignment. While this can be (and will for many) be met with fear and discouragement, the higher potential of this conjunction is spiritual activation. This will look many ways for each of us, but this is how I will define it in its essence:

All of the capacities and ways we have developed ourselves as human beings have no innate meaning on their own. For example, speaking a certain language has no innate meaning. Playing a musical instrument has no meaning. Being good at listening to others has no meaning. All of these things are generally just ways that we have learned to identify ourselves, ways we have given meaning to our lives in our trying to be somebody.

Spirit however will use all of these for its purposes. The skills and capacities we naturally possess, as well as our relationships and the places we feel weak and fearful - all of this gets absorbed into the stream of God's will and becomes a part of this next phase.

This is what gives all of our skills and capacities actual meaning, for otherwise they only point to themselves, attempting to gratify an ego or give meaning where we couldn't find any. Once any part of our being is animated by the power of Truth, it has the capacity to express and do things that are literally beyond this world. There are no limits or bounds to the miracles that we possess.

Discipline, Shedding Guilt, and Beginning Anew

The correlation of the increased darkness and to our miracle capacities should not be underestimated. This is where we are given an assignment and guided, shaped, directed where we are to go.

In this sense, we are re-disciplining ourselves to operate on a much higher level of consciousness. For many this will feel thousands of pounds lighter than the past. For others, there will be still a process of shedding the remnants of the guilt-oriented ways we are familiar with. And this leads to a final point I want to make.

The beginning of a new astrological cycle doesn't innately mean fresh, new, gone with the past. In fact, more often than not, a new cycle reflects the anxiety of starting something new but still not being psychologically done with the past. While it's literally done with, we are still familiar with what we are familiar with. And thus, there is a strong tendency to try to go back to what we have known.

In the context of this Saturn Neptune in Aries, this new phase STRONGLY invites us to self-reflect and get clear about what it is we are leaving behind. It is time to let the older ways go because we have work to do, and we are right on time.
